November devotions: Jenni

The other morning, I woke up at 3:45am, to thunder, lightening and then heavy rain. It was very stormy outside. I nudged my husband Ian to wake up, as it was time for him to bring in the cows for milking. We could hear the rain really coming down hard and Ian was dreading just how wet he was about to get out there.

As he left the house, I prayed that God would protect him while he brought in the cows and that somehow, he'd stay dry. I then promptly went back to sleep for a couple more hours. When Ian came home later for his breakfast, the first thing he said to me was 'Did you pray for me this morning as I left the house?' Apparently, as soon as he got outside it stopped raining. He brought in the cows and stayed dry the whole time and he just knew it was God's work. Prayer is contagious. Ian was so thankful to the Lord that morning, he was praying too. Our world is stormy outside and it's so important at this time that we keep praying: about the big things, but also about the little things. God wants us to talk to Him, so He can show us just how much he loves us. We don't know how are prayers will be answered, but God does.

Monday Matters November 18th 7.30pm at Mary's home: Roger will be leading, please park on Garage forecourt. This is a discussion group exploring interesting and challenging issues. All opinions, thoughts and views are encouraged. The only rule is that everyone's opinions, thoughts and views are respected!
